New Business

Finance Staff Position and Pay Changes
Nathan Ramsey shared that the following proposed changes would reclassify the Payroll and Accounting Specialist position to Payroll and Finance Coordinator at Grade 26 with a $5,000 salary increase for the current salary of Sherry Christenson. The purpose for this change is to recognize Ms. Christenson leading the Finance Department’s digital transition which adds modules to the current financial software. Wanda Clark is the longest serving employee of the Council with 43 years of service. She is currently a part-time employee in the role of an Accounting Manager earning $34.00 per hour. Administrative staff propose increasing her pay to $36.28 per hour to respond to market conditions. Part-time employees did not receive a cost-of-living adjustment.

Preston Blakely moved to reclassify the Payroll and Accounting Specialist position to Payroll and Finance Coordinator at Grade 26 with a salary of $70,965.39 and increase the pay of the part-time Accounting Manager to $36.28 per hour effective for the pay period beginning August 27, 2022. Bob Tomasulo seconded, and the motion carried upon a roll call vote, and without further discussion.

Land of Sky Regional Council Strategic Plan
Nathan Ramsey shared that Land of Sky Regional Council adopted its Strategic Plan 2019-2021 in 2019. Preparations are being made to update the Strategic Plan. LOSRC staff plan to hold an all-staff strategic planning session on September 23, 2022. An anonymous survey will be sent to LOSRC staff, the Board of Delegates, local government managers, elected officials, board members of other boards at LOSRC, along with other stakeholders. The purpose of this update is to request direction from the Executive Committee for this Strategic Planning process.

Nathan Ramsey noted that the purpose of the survey is to gather information regarding what the organization is doing well, what work needs to be done, and the current focus and future direction for LOSRC. He shared that Dogwood Health Trust (DHT) focus areas are Health/Wellness (including social determinants of health), Housing, Employment, and Education. From a staff standpoint, a more focused strategic plan may be beneficial to the programs. It’s important to glean the priorities of the region and the strategic planning process could define how those priorities are pursued by Council.

Discussion occurred regarding the inclusion of transportation in the strategic focus since that is part of all other focus areas. It was noted that the identification of a small number of priorities may help to define a focus for gaining additional funding to serve the region and lead to healthier and more vibrant communities. Nathan Ramsey noted that DHT includes those four strategic priorities as part of their grant applications, asking applicants how their proposals align with DHT goals. While the strategic plan developed through this current process may not align with all DHT’s strategic priorities, the goal is to address growing pains within the organization and throughout the region, in general. A lot of transformational changes have occurred over the past few years, and the survey instrument is structured to capture thoughts and ideas about the best path forward for the organization. The Executive Committee would have an opportunity to review the survey before it is released publicly.

Discussion occurred regarding using the strategic planning process to look at other potential funding sources and developing a strategic plan that allows for a multi-purposd approach to the most important priorities for the region.

Information Item. No action requested at this time.

Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS) Update
Land of Sky Regional Council is required to adopt a Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS) as part of the funding the organization receives from the US Department of Commerce, Economic Development Administration (EDA). Council is in the process of updating the CEDS. For this update Ernst & Young (EY) has been retained and are working with the Chambers of Commerce in Buncombe, Haywood, Henderson, Madison, and Transylvania Counties. Dogwood Health Trust provided part of the funding required to retain EY. The preliminary top priorities of the CEDS are the following: Housing Expansion & Diversification, Transportation & Infrastructure Improvement, and Workforce Development.

Erica Anderson shared that the CEDS is a Chamber-led effort and Ernst & Young are leading a robust process based on the input from businesses referred by the chambers for this process. She noted that reports would be generated through this employer-engaged process and those would be distributed to the Executive Committee when available. Building additional career pathways may be an opportunity realized from this part of the CEDSs update process. She encouraged Executive Committee members to reach out to ECD staff with any questions or comments when those reports are available.

Information only. No action requested this time.

Affordable and Workforce Housing
Nathan Ramsey shared that he was part of a forum held recently in the City of Brevard. Afterwards, Brevard’s Mayor and Executive Committee member Maureen Copelof requested that Land of Sky Regional Council serve as a regional convenor to address the affordable and workforce housing needs in the region. The CEDS update identifies housing as the top priority for the region. LOSRC currently supports housing in many ways from providing writing and technical support for the Regional Housing Consortium, supporting non-profit housing agencies including the WNC Housing Partnership and helping to address the infrastructure needs required to support affordable housing. A regional forum would likely include Dogwood Health Trust, NC Housing Finance Agency, WNC Housing Partnership and many others. Nathan Ramsey noted that one of the recommendations coming from the Richmond Fed at the recent WNC Rebounding Stronger Summit, was the development of regional housing trust funds. Erica Anderson shared that DHT has been engaged in the discussion of holding a regional housing forum. The goal is to look at what can be done and implemented at the realistic level. A housing inventory is kicking off in the entire DHT region including an examination of available tax credits. Erica Anderson requested that the Executive Committee reach out with ideas around this topic.

Discussion occurred regarding a company that uses HUD funding to build entirely workforce housing units that are deeply affordable. Their model has proven effectiveness and may be able to be replicated. It was noted that there has been a lot of regional forums and groups convened around affordable housing and the hope is to centralize the conversation for the region. These conversations could be part of LOSRC’s priorities. The goal is to try to pull this effort together in a central manner to get things changed at the State level. It was noted that there is intense pressure on available housing as those are bought by investors and turned into short-term rentals.

Nathan Ramsey shared that there have been many conversations regarding what local jurisdictions can do with regards to regulating short-term rentals and this ties into developing legislative goals for LOSRC based on what local jurisdictions could agree on as goals for the next legislative session. It was shared that it is important to educate the public on the need for multi-family housing that is affordable at many levels. Currently, it seems that this type of housing development is stigmatized. Nathan Ramsey noted that the average annual wage in the region is $45 Thousand, and the average housing price is over $300 Thousand. Even with building more housing units, without addressing the affordability aspect of such developments, the issue cannot be solved. Staff noted that population growth is projected to increase consistently and an examination of where growth is likely to happen was reviewed. Many people are concerned about traffic impacts when additional development is proposed in their areas. It was noted that building alone is not going to address this multi-faceted issue. There is an imperative need to address the property tax rate and how that is structured. Nathan Ramsey noted that legislative action would be required to address that issue. Susan Russo-Klein noted that there have been a lot of different means of addressing the property tax rate structure by local jurisdictions and more information could be shared after additional research on the subject. It was noted that action needs to follow the ideas that are identified. Perhaps the goal should be to form a group that would act on ideas developed through a convening of stakeholders on the affordable housing issue. Nathan Ramsey noted that one creative way to get around the issue is how Buncombe County is addressing the issue by providing a rebate to low-income homeowners.

Executive Committee members encouraged staff to develop a centralized hub to share information on available initiatives and to provide education on the subject to the public. It was suggested that meetings could include a monthly topic that would allow for member governments to learn what other jurisdictions are doing to address issues around affordable housing. Nathan Ramsey shared that ECD may need to identify a staff member that could be devoted to the affordable housing issue, but that is difficult to do without dedicated funding for that work. Erica Anderson noted that creating more capacity is an ongoing discussion in ECD around those topics that are not part of a dedicated funding stream and she suggested that it may be possible to address these topics for the benefit of the region and that this should come out in the strategic planning process.

Executive Committee members shared that a limited tax base is an issue in the smaller counties in the LOSRC region, and it would be important to address how tax breaks could affect potential increases in the cost of providing services. The need to look at the benefits versus the cost is imperative.

Nathan Ramsey confirmed that challenges within the LOSRC staffing structure would be examined and the goal is to report back with possible solutions soon. It was shared that MPO funding may be put towards affordable housing objectives based on updated guidance.

Information only. No action requested.

NC 11 Congressional Candidates

At the request of Chairman Fitzsimmons, the three NC-11 Congressional candidates (Jasmine Beach-Ferrara, Chuck Edwards, and David Coatsney) have been invited to speak for 10 minutes to the LOSRC Board of Delegates. This will not be a debate. Attorney Susan Russo-Klein has indicated that we can host a nonpartisan forum and not jeopardize our funding sources or federal and state assurances. The three candidates plan to speak at the October 26 Board of Delegates meeting.

Information item. No action requested.

Other Items

Executive Director Report

Nathan Ramsey shared that his current report is included in the agenda packet, and he encouraged Executive Committee members to reach out with any questions or comments regarding the report.

Nathan Ramsey shared about the process to appoint the permanent Finance Director, noting that Patricia Rosenberg has been doing exemplary work during her interim engagement to date. He confirmed that she made a major commitment when agreeing to the interim slot. Normally, the Board has been involved at some level in the search process for LOS Administrative staff, including the Finance Director position, as that position is critical to the operations of the organization. He encouraged the Executive Committee to reach out with suggestions for engagement in the process or to participate.

Nathan Ramsey shared that his wife has asked him to travel to Washington DC with her for an event with her employer, Senator Burr, who is retiring. He informed the Executive Committee that he plans to attend September's Board meetings remotely.

Nathan Ramsey encouraged the Executive Committee to consider individuals who might appointed to the vacant slots for At-Large/Minority representatives for Buncombe and Transylvania. He also encouraged them to consider how Economic Development representatives are appointed to the Board. He followed that request with the information that George Morosani, the long-serving Economic Development representative for Buncombe County, has announced his intention to retire from the Regional Board.

Adjournment

Chair Fitzsimmons adjourned the meeting upon unanimous consent, as there was no further business.
