Active Aging Week

Choose your destination during Active Aging Week, September 24 - 29, 2012! This year's Active Aging Week theme "Many journeys, many destinations," recognizes that older adults choose to travel along individual paths based on their interests and needs. Destinations of good health and well-being allow better years of life.

Active Aging Week 2012 showcases the healthy choices and diverse opportunities available to older adults in Madison County. All Active Aging Week destinations are FREE and designed to optimize physical, social and mental well-being.

How can you participate?

1. Review the schedule of walks, volunteer opportunities and events in the brochure
2. Select the programs that you would like to attend
3. Drop-in or call for more information (register when indicated)
4. Show up!

Join the fun and lead the way as we transform outdated concepts about "seniors" into the new realities of active aging.

Additional Destinations
